oreword . .

With the end of this school year, we not only look forward to a new horizon with unlimited possibilities, but backward through our college experiences. It is the hope of the editors that this and the past years will be pleasantly brought back to you through this volume.

When time who steals our years away
Shall steal our pleasures too,
The mem'ry of the past will stay
And half our joys renew!

To all those looking forward and especially to the seniors who now with a tinge of reluctance look back - - we give this 1940 Wigwam.

edication . .

Outstanding in all the activities of the Richmond Professional Institute, a popular professor, an inspiring leader to the present senior class, and a capable advisor to the freshmen---To you, Dr. Margaret Johnson, without whose constant advice and cooperation this volume would not have been possible, we sincerely dedicate our 1940 yearbook.

DR. HENRY H. HIBBS, JR.
Dean

When a young woman marries, she must give thought as to what name she will use. There are three things she can do. She can bury her identity in that of her husband and drop all traces of her former name by calling herself Mrs. John L. Smith; or she can keep both names and sign herself Mrs. Mary Jones Smith; or, if she is very "advanced," she can continue to call herself Mary Jones.

The work carried on at Franklin and Shafer Streets in Richmond was formerly independent, then it became consolidated or, if you like, married to the College of William and Mary. When this was done, we dropped our former name entirely; and it became simply the Richmond Division of the College of William and Mary. Soon we learned that this change left us with no identity of our own. We became simply a small branch of the College at Williamsburg. When a young married woman drops her name and family connections and goes by the name of her husband exclusively the sacrifice may make her feel happy; but, when you marry two institutions, it doesn't always work out that way.

So recently we changed our name to the Richmond Professional Institute, a Division of the College of William and Mary, in order to make two things clear; first, that while a part of the William and Mary system and operated by the College of William and Mary with the same president and board, the Richmond Professional Institute really comes of a sufficiently important educational family to have a name of its own and a purpose of its own and a faculty of its own and, to change the figure, to be a sufficiently important tub in the educational world to stand on its own bottom; and, second, we changed the name to make it clear that here at the Richmond Professional Institute technical, vocational, and professional work are not merely incidental features added to a general college curriculum in order to attract students, but on the contrary that these fields of study constitute the things in which Richmond Professional Institute specializes and on which it places the main emphasis. In any true marriage there are two "parties"—in this case the Richmond Professional Institute and the College of William and Mary—and both deserve to have at least part of their names retained.

To the class of 1940 I might ask if, when your friends and acquaintances ask you what is your alma mater, will you answer "The College of William and Mary" and not even mention the Richmond Professional Institute; or will you say "College of William and Mary" and then add the name of the Richmond Professional Institute; or will you say "Richmond Professional Institute" and then add the name of the College of William and Mary?

You, the class of 1940, will be the first to receive diplomas under the new and double name which mentions both the Richmond Professional Institute, which you have actually attended, and the College of William and Mary, which operates R. P. I. and gives you your degrees. You will be the first who like Mrs. Mary Jones Smith finds happiness in assuming a new name, but also likes to keep her own too.

Both the Richmond Professional Institute and the College of William and Mary wish you well and are appreciative that you selected this as the college that you were to attend and not some other.

(Signed) HENRY H. HIBBS, JR.

Notes from my Notebook

OCTOBER 1ST, 1950

Biggest feat of the year: Anna Engles delivers quadruplet German babies single handed.

A certain young lady, recent grad from R. P. I., is making Fifth Ave. turn flips. The name is—S. Moore.

This is a truth from the inner source—the young Dr. Stoneburners (she was Mary E. Poythress) are infanticipating.

Art Critic Bear, reviewing this week's show at the Met, throws digs at M. Bond's "Water-pipe."

Flash! Dr. Louise Woodson, B.S., M.T., Ph.D., sidesteps from technology to teach a course in Ancient English Lit. to Harvard studes after innumerable demands.

A. P. Wire: Pat Rupis has finally hung up her hat in Charlottesville.

Biggest disappointment to Broadway: L'Anna Fontaine (Anna James Smith) goes home to marry school day sweetheart. (It's de thruth).

Etelka Young's Tired Cat Farm is definitely on the upgrade.

From the authority of Jayne Obermeyer, Gen. Mgr. of Kaufman's: "Slacks out and rompers in for the college girl."

Gomberg is doing the murals for the latest Mexican hot spot.

Seen at the C. C. (Cotton Club to you)—Modle Henrietta Siceloff with one of the Duponts.

Former deb Annette Bull, now Mrs. Turnipseed, is entering her young son in the fashionable Frye nursery school.

Yodeling Martha Woodson yodels into the show at Roxy's.

Scoop: Attractive Ana Miranda (R. P. I., '40) is going to head the Medical Center in Puerto Rico.

Alice Bullard and her Girl Scouts were lost for three hours on Pt. Lookout. What's the matter, girls, did your matches give out?

Promising Y. M. C. A. worker Jane Warrick is in town to the convention at N. Y. S. S. W.

Story tellers:

Helen Martin over N. B. C.—the bed-time variety.

Dean of Females, Miss Helen Fuchs, at Southern Female Seminary, explodes new theory on slums.

Virginia, Minn., has produced a brilliant Mag editor, Alice Hedja. Take a look at this week's "Manual of the Care and Feeding of Goats."

Naomi Gooch quotes: "My art is first."

"Bip" Maher quotes: "I'm married to my profession."

Mary J. Whitehorne is preparing nitroglycerin for the Kill-All-Dictators Factory.

We hear the Skeeter's are coming for Carlson.

Coville's thesis for Ph.D., "Why be a droop worker," is hot off the press.

Ralph Deas is fast becoming a child prodigy. His ma is coaching him.

Have you heard the latest about a traveling salesman? Ask Evelyn D.

Highest award of the year goes to Drudge: Perfect attendance at Med. College dances.

Ink-slingers call Dorothy Dudley's one-man show O. K.

Expecting bundles from Heaven: The former Dixie Lee Snodgrass (R. P. I., '40). This is the fourth for the Kenneth Southalls (Mary Jo Stahl). One more and they'll have their own basketball team.

Seen in the City Hall: E. Rucker in Marriage License Bureau and Charlotte Oppleman paying the usual ten-spot for speeding.

Murphey's editorial won the prize at the National Press Association Convention. We think it was good, too, just verification, boys.

Ouida Oliver's comment on the latest thought play is good. "It made me think."

"Jeb" is in the political swing in Trenton.

Law school is in a panic. The D. A.'s wife (the former Alice Straus) is taking a class. Hubby's table conversation must be over her head.

Promising young sculptress, Adelaide Snead, is slated to win this year's highest art award.

Ethel Adams has opened her studio at 49th St.

Confucius say: Future inevitable, so relax and enjoy yourself now.

The Art Students' League, founded in 1930, is a medium designed to fill the gap between classroom work and outside activities.

It is felt that actual participation is the basis for mutual understanding. To this end, the League employs a selected group of activities which includes lectures, student exhibits, movies, dances, and extended trips.

"What is this? Life Insurance?" inquired the prospect.

"Certainly," replied the agent. "What else could it be?"

Which is another way of saying that no other savings plan yet devised can put a "permanent wave" of security in one's estate.

Ask the women—there are thousands of them—whose "late husbands" left little, if anything, but life insurance.

A COLLEGE EDUCATION COSTS MONEY!

It's wise to insure while you are young. Let us plan a life insurance program and you'll be protecting Dad and Mother during those years with a life insurance policy. Life insurance will provide comfort and security for them in event of your premature death, or, if you live, for yourself in the declining years of old age.
